

The Washington Association of Family-based Treatment Services
(WAFTS)

Is offering a FREE TRAINING to foster parents and social workers

Medications 101

Presenter- Randi Hankins MSW, Associate Professor

Mood stabilizers, antidepressants, stimulants.... A growing number of foster children are being treated with psychotropic medications. Participants will gain an understanding of the assumed action of various medications, the benefits and the limitations of this type of treatment. Come explore the wonders of the working brain!

Thursday, June 9, 2005

9:30 am to 1:30 pm

The Quality Inn Hotel and Conference Center

101 128th St. SE

Everett, WA 98208

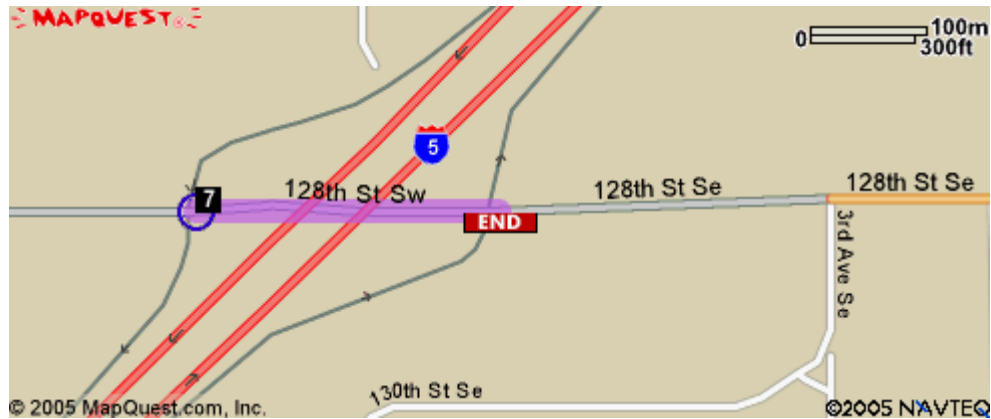

To register, call or Email:

1-800-701-8711

WAFTS55@hotmail.com

Lunch will be provided but please bring some home-made cookies for cookie contest

This training is made possible through a grant from the Northwest Children's Fund

If Going South

Travel South I-5, toward Everett/Seattle

Take Exit 186, WA-96 E/128TH ST SW

Turn left on 128th St

Cross over freeway, Quality Inn will be on your left. Park in back near the large Dome. Enter from back door to Chelan Conference Room

If Going North

Travel North I-5, toward Everett

Take Exit 186, WA-96 E/128TH ST SW

Turn Right on 128th St SE

Quality Inn will be on your immediate left. Park in back near the large Dome. Enter from back door to Chelan Conference Room